

At Agape Source we understand that assistance helps people survive, but it does not help them acquire and utilize the skills that enable them to escape from future financial hardships or danger. The path out may be a long and difficult one, especially for those who have lived in its grip for an extended period of time. Few individuals manage to complete the journey without guidance from mentors and training, which we provide at no cost.

The difference between Agape Source Financial and other debt management entities is Agape Source will also invest an Agape Gift to clients that are working with mentors on weekly basis and learning to live within their means as the Bible teaches. The Agape Gift will be utilized only for purposes reasonable to aiding a person to become debt-free. The church mentor will assist in determining how big the gift is and ensure the investment is utilized for the purpose gifted.
